

OTR Bake-off — who wrote the best radio drama

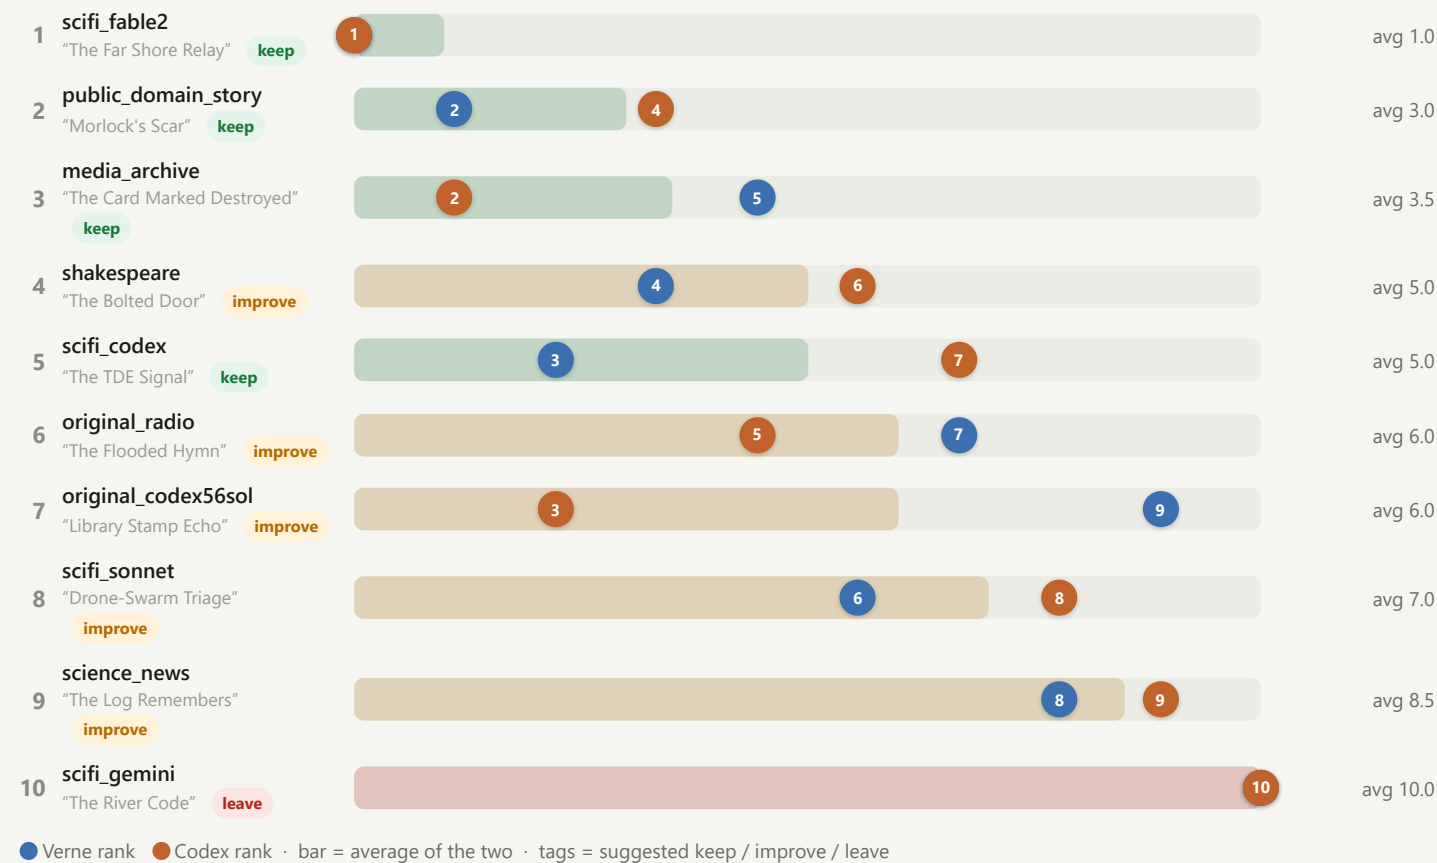

720-word judged rung · two blind judges: Verne (Claude read) + Codex · scripts anonymized Story A–J

◆ CONSENSUS WINNER

scifi_fable2 — “The Far Shore Relay”

Ranked #1 by both judges. A mirror-bounced wildfire warning forcing a family-vs-valley choice — a complete radio play with the set's best dialogue and the only one that fills the length with sustained tension.

CONSENSUS LEADERBOARD — LOWER IS BETTER

“DIFFERENT SHOWS AT LENGTH” — VOICED LINES ACROSS 320 / 420 / 720

Every lane holds a flat ~14-line shape as the target grows — except scifi_fable2, which explodes 3 → 7 → 64. That’s a lane property, not a quality score.

MODEL axis is unanswered: every episode was written by one model (aion). The mistral + gemma writer matrices were smoke-blocked overnight and never ran — “best model” needs those to run (hours of GPU).

Panel note: Antigravity (Gemini) dropped into its model-picker on the slug and wrote no review, so this is a two-judge panel (Codex + Verne). Retry available with the correct display-name model.
